

Privacy Policy

Last updated: March 18, 2026

1. Introduction

Houses of Thought (also known as House of Reason) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information. This Privacy Policy explains what information we collect, how we use it, and the choices you have regarding your data.

2. Information We Collect

When you use Houses of Thought, we may collect the following types of information:

- Name and email address (provided during account creation)
- Account login credentials
- User-created reasoning projects, houses, and related content
- Feedback, support messages, and bug reports submitted through the platform
- Usage data such as pages visited and features used

3. How Information Is Used

Collected information may be used to:

- Operate and maintain the platform
- Improve reasoning tools, AI features, and user experience
- Provide support and respond to user feedback
- Maintain security, prevent abuse, and enforce our Terms of Service
- Communicate important updates about the platform

4. Data Sharing Policy

Houses of Thought does not sell, share, rent, or distribute your personal data to third parties. Your data is used exclusively for operating and improving the Houses of Thought platform. We may disclose information only if required by law or to protect the rights, safety, or property of Houses of Thought and its users.

5. AI Processing

Your inputs — including reasoning projects, questions, and house content — may be processed by AI systems to generate reasoning suggestions, implications, and other analytical outputs. This processing is performed solely to deliver the platform's core functionality. AI-generated outputs are not stored or used for purposes beyond providing the service to you.

6. Third-Party Infrastructure

We use trusted third-party infrastructure providers (such as Supabase) to securely store and manage user data.

7. Data Security

We implement reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access, loss, misuse, or alteration. However, no method of electronic storage or transmission is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

8. Children's Privacy

Users must be at least 12 years old to create an account on Houses of Thought. The platform does not knowingly collect personal data from children under 12. If we become aware that we have collected information from a child under 12, we will take steps to delete that data promptly.

9. User Rights

You have the right to:

- Access and review the personal data associated with your account
- Request correction of inaccurate information
- Request deletion of your account and all associated data

You can delete your account at any time through the Profile settings page or by contacting our support team.

10. Data Retention

User data is retained only as long as necessary to operate the platform and provide the service. When you delete your account, all associated data — including reasoning projects, profile information, and feedback — will be permanently removed from our systems.

11. Changes to Privacy Policy

Houses of Thought may update this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect changes in our practices or applicable laws. We will notify users of significant changes. Continued use of the platform after changes are posted constitutes acceptance of the updated policy.

12. Contact

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy or your personal data, please contact us at housesofthought.support@gmail.com.
