

I want to explore whether AI should be used in schools.

Let's start by exploring the different perspectives involved. Who are the stakeholders, and what do they each value?

Teachers, students, parents, and administrators all have stakes.

Great starting point. Let's build out a perspective for each — beginning with the one you feel least certain about.

Ask, explore, or build a thought...

Should AI Be Used In Schools?

Publish

Export

PERSPECTIVES

Students

AI likely benefits students when used as a tutor rather than an answer key.

3 questions 78

Teachers

Teachers gain real leverage on prep but face new assessment and oversight...

3 questions 64

Parents

Parents are cautiously supportive when given transparency and opt-out...

2 questions 55

Society

Societal benefits are plausible but currently unevenly distributed by...

2 questions 60

Employers

Employers strongly value AI-fluent graduates and are reshaping entry-level roles.

2 questions 72

Administrators

Administrators face a hard balance of cost, liability, and measurable outcomes.

2 questions 58

Evidence

80

Logic

65

Coverage

70

FOUNDATIONAL ASSUMPTIONS